The Postal Cards.

NEW YORK, May 16.—The postal authorities of this city ordered 500,000 postal cards, of which 275,000 arrived to-day. Their sale began at 11 o'clock, and during the succeeding three hours 200,000 were disposed of. They were chiefly purchased in large quantities for advertising purposes, a single firm taking 20,000.

SALES AT WASHINGTON.

The Chronicle says of the first day: So great was the demand for them that during the evening about twelve thousand were sold. The demand continued yesterday, and up to noon thirty-five thousand cards were sold, and at 1:30 P. M., the number had reached about fifty thousand, and the cry was "still they come!" One order for 5,000 for a gentleman in New Jersey was filled to-day, and Adams & Co's express sent word that they wanted 6,000 to commence with. Of course almost everybody who bought a card at once "wrote a letter" and dispatched it to some distant friend.

A Jealous Husband Cured by Licorice-Water.

There is a man in this city, who is so affectionately fond of his wife that he is jealous if a man looks within forty-five degrees of the direction in which she may happen to be. The other day a gentleman spoke to her, and he immediately threatened suicide. His wife was dispatched for a bottle of poison, which she had put up at the drugstore's, consisting of a little water colored with licorice and bottled, with a glaring poison label outside. When he threatened to take some of it, and actually poured it into a wine glass, she screamed for help and ran into another room, where she could watch him through the keyhole, and saw him coolly open the window and throw it out. She then rushed back, apparently frantic with grief, and implored him not to do the rash deed. He merely pointed at the glass, and laying down on the floor began to kick out his legs like a jumping-jack. She told him she was determined to share his fate, and swallowed the rest of the licorice-water, whereupon he became really frightened, called the neighbors, confessed that he only shamed, and said that if she only survived he never would trouble her again. Then she explained the ruse, and he was so mortified he tried to buy up the silence of the neighbors, but the story was too good to keep. He was thoroughly cured.—Tusculum Herald.

This may be a trifle personal, but it's the way they put things out West.

A St. Louis editor, in speaking of a brother ink-slinger, says: "He is young yet, but he can sit at his desk and brush the cobwebs from the ceiling with his ears."

The Modocs don't develop agriculturally. Thus far they haven't succeeded in raising anything but hair.

And then there were eight.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

Proceedings of the City Council.

The Board met last night at the usual hour. Mayor Fouche being absent, on motion Alderman Fouché, Alderman Atkin was elected to preside over the Board.

Present—Aldermen Henderson, Kern, Fouché, Camp, Logan, Atkin, Glass, Cruze, Livingston, Warters, Park, and Yardley.

The minutes of the previous meetings were read, and no objections being made, stood approved.

A communication was read by request of the Mayor, a petition of Mr. Stephenson, in regard to the reduction of his taxes. Referred to the Finance Committee.

Alderman Logan read an account of Gas Company for the erection of a gas post on Depot street, which he said he could not approve, as he thought it was too much.

On motion it was referred back to the Gas Committee for further investigation.

Alderman Henderson, of the Finance Committee reported the following accounts approved and they were ordered paid:

Williams, Sturges & Co., $16 90

Albers & Co., 24 35

An account from some person for feeding and attending to a pauper was returned to the Board.

Alderman Camp moved that it be laid on the table.

Alderman Fouché could not see why they wanted to kill the bill without first examining into the merits of the account, and made a motion in lieu that it be referred back to the Finance Committee.

Alderman Camp made some remarks on the subject, and did not wish the impression to go out that the City Council paid pauper bills.

Alderman Fouché made an explanation of his views, after which they adopted his motion in lieu.

Alderman Kern, of the Street Committee, reported that he had made a contract with Mr. Badgett to take down the cover of the bridge over First Creek on Cumberland street, he paying $15 for the lumber.

He also wished the ordinance in regard to laying side walks enforced, and made a motion to the effect that the Chief Marshal give due notice, and that after 20 days from date, the ordinance be enforced.

Alderman Kern also called attention to the fact that the property owners on Harris street, or rather the extension of Broad street, would give four feet of ground on each side for pavements if the Corporation would put down curbing within a certain specified time, and moved that their proposition be accepted. Carried.

Alderman Logan, of the Gas Committee, read a proposition from D. F. Rogers, in regard to putting up street lamp posts and furnishing the city with carbonate gas. On motion of Alderman Fouché, it was laid on the table.

Everything in his power to induce the Gas Company to lay new mains, and erect lamp posts in the localities designated by the Board, but without effect. He also remarked that the subject of organizing a new Gas Company was much talked of, and hoped that it would be organized, as if one company would not put down mains where desired, another company probably would.

Alderman Fouché, of the committee to revise and compile the charter and by laws for publication asked for more time, which was granted.

Alderman Warters called the attention of the Board to the condition of the spring at Ingle's mill, and moved that the street committee be authorized to put it in repair. Carried.

On motion of Alderman Henderson, the ordinance in regard to hogs was again taken up for action, and Alderman Fouché proceeded to read it.

Alderman Camp moved that it be read and passed upon by sections. Lost.

Alderman Fouché then read the ordinance as it passed first reading.

Alderman Camp offered an amendment to the effect that his ward be excluded from the operations of this law.

Alderman Glass was in favor of going the whole hog or none. He for one was opposed to the law, not just for the benefit of his ward, but the whole city, and did not think that any particular locality should be exempt.

Alderman Camp's amendment was put to a vote and lost.

Alderman Camp then offered another amendment, fixing the boundary line at the railroad and First Creek, and exempting north and east of that line from coming under the provisions of the law. Lost.

Several other amendments were offered by Mr. Camp, some of which were accepted and others rejected, after which the ordinance as amended was voted upon, and the ayes and noes being called by two members of the Board, it stood as follows:

AYES—Aldermen Logan, Baxter, Cruze, Fouché, Park, Henderson and Kern.

NOES—Aldermen Glass, Yardley, Livingston, Warters and Camp.

Alderman Yardley explained his vote, that while his sentiments were not changed his constituents were opposed to the law, and he could not vote for it.

Alderman Camp also explained his vote by stating that he was for the hog law, but was opposed to forcing it upon any portion of the city opposed to it, and as his constituents were opposed to it, he was forced to vote against it.

Alderman Henderson moved that they postpone the election of Pound Keeper till next meeting. Carried.

Alderman Henderson moved that the hog ordinance, and the other ordinances not already published in the city papers, be published, according to a provision of the charter, which, he said, required that all ordinances be published in the city papers before they go into effect. Carried.

Alderman Fouché seeing that the friends of the hog law were decidedly in the majority, moved to reconsider with a view to a final settlement of the matter, but the friends of the hog law were too slow in perceiving Alderman Fouché's idea, while Aldermen Yardley and Warters saw through the movement at once, and made a motion to adjourn, which motion carried.

Hon. Horace Maynard.

It has been suggested that President Grant will probably appoint a Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to the present membership and designate Hon. Horace Maynard to the vacancy thus created. We can't say in truth and sincerity that we cherish a consuming desire to see Mr. Maynard promoted; but would interpose no objection to his being retired from the field of active political life. The President could not do a more grateful act.—Athens Post.

EAST TENNESSEE NOTES.

Hamilton County.

Messrs. McLane & Slouman are preparing to build in this city a blast furnace. We gave the location and some minor particulars in relation to it. We have now further to state that it is the intention of these gentlemen to build their furnace with twelve foot boshes and sixty feet high. The capacity will be from fifteen to twenty tons of hot blast pig per day.—Chat. Times.

Loudon County.

The Athens Post says that a woolen factory is being erected at Eve Mills, on Fork Creek, Loudon county, five miles east of Philadelphia, by Capt. W. J. Fowler and J. B. Irving. The latter is said to be thorough practical machinist, and Capt. Fowler we know to be one of the most substantial and enterprising men of our section.

It has been well said that he who causes two blades of grass to grow where but one grew before, it is a public benefactor. We take the liberty of adding that whoever puts up a cotton or woolen factory or any available piece of machinery in East Tennessee, is worth more than all the political slangwaggers in the State, and deserves a monument as durable as the "everlasting hills."

Washington County.

James Shaver, son of John Shaver, shoemaker, while out hunting on Saturday evening last, accidentally shot one of his hands into shreds by the accidental discharge of his gun. The boy is a natural cripple in his feet, and his present affliction will by a great calamity to him should amputation have to be resorted to.—Flag and Ado. Jonesboro.

Mr. J. B. Anderson, in company with some others, killed a very large bald eagle a few days ago near Brownsboro'. When spread, its wings from point to point measured six feet, and it carried in its talons an eel.

If Jonesboro' can boast of nothing else it can certainly claim a superiority over all other towns of a like size on account of its age and the number of its dogs. The latter are especially noticeable to the stranger. We have every variety and description from "Nero," the big dog to the smallest and most delicate of the canine species.—Herald and Tribune.

Georgia Personal.

We met on our streets yesterday, Hon. W. G. McAdoo, formerly of Knoxville. Col. McAdoo has been in the city for several days, and we learn that he is engaged in railroad enterprises in the South, being President of the St. Mary's and Western and the Great Southern Railway Companies of Georgia. Col. McAdoo is one of the first lawyers in the South, and we are glad to learn that he is as successful in pushing forward his railroad enterprises as in managing law cases.—Nash, Union and American.
